

LITTLE LOCALS.

erecting Items Too Short for Separate Heads.

Mr. W. P. Turner has been appointed postmaster at Conleyville, this county, vice J. B. Corley, resigned.

Much interest is now manifested in politics and there are many who would like to know who will be the next mayor of Roanoke.

The services at the Young Men's Christian Association tomorrow evening will be conducted by Mr. E. Linwood Flippo.

The house bill to "amend and re-enact sections 1, 8, 25 and 50 of an act approved January 31st, 1884, providing for a new charter for the city of Roanoke," has passed the Senate.

Mr. J. E. Tennyson found his dog strolling in a very short time, another striking evidence of the due of this paper as an advertising medium.

The first quarterly meeting of the Methodist church will be held at 11 o'clock on each day, and so on tomorrow night.

Della Stonall and Charley Norvall, colored parties of this city, were among those engaged in a row at the hotel last Wednesday, and were arrested and lodged in jail for their disorderly conduct.

Mr. J. P. Pettigrew, of Lynchburg, has received the contract for erecting several switch towers in the yards of the Norfolk and Western railroad in this city. He has also just completed the contract at the Alleghany Institute.

Mr. Arthur L. Payne is prominently mentioned as the successor of the late City Solicitor, Henry Gibson. Mr. Payne is an indefatigable worker, and a young man well qualified for the duties of the position. It would be hard to find a man better qualified for the place than Mr. Payne.

The arrival of furniture at the freight depot continues to be a most striking feature in connection with the receipts of freight there. This, however, is only a small part of the additions to the household goods of this city, as any one can see who takes the trouble to note the constant arrival of wagonloads of furniture from Roanoke and adjoining counties.

Botetourt, Bedford, Franklin, Floyd, Montgomery and Craig have contributed their full quota to the city here, and what is better, the cry is "still they come."
